Find Your Focus Journal

Seven days
to shift your focus, get excited for your day, and celebrate your successes

Why the Find Your Focus Journal?

All too often, I find myself talking to someone who struggles to find the positive in life. They feel stuck and can't find a way out. They start looking for the negative and find it at every turn.

Why? Because we know that the brain will find what it's looking for.

How do we make the shift from focusing on negative things to positive things?

It's not with sayings like, "you make your own happiness," or "turn your frown upside down."

It takes work to switch your focus.

That's where the Find Your Focus Journal comes in. Each morning you will start by focusing on positive aspects ahead of your day. Each night you will reinforce what went well.

This journal is designed to help you take small, daily steps to break negative thought loops and replace them with positive patterns.

Not convinced?

Benefits of the Find Your Focus Journal include:

- Break free of negative thought loops.
- Start and end each day focused on the positive.
- Focus on the positive, to find more of the same.
- Discover what brings you joy.
- Repeat week after week to increase your results.
